Home backup batteries store extra energy so you can use it later. When you only have solar panels, any electricity they generate that you don't use goes to the grid. But with residential battery storage, you can store that extra power to use when your panels aren't producing enough electricity to meet your demand.

Battery energy storage systems, or BESS, are a type of energy storage solution that can provide backup power for microgrids and assist in load leveling and grid support. There are many types of BESS available depending on your needs and preferences, including lithium-ion batteries, lead-acid batteries, flow batteries, and flywheels.

Improve energy efficiency and reduce energy bills libbi is now available at 0% VAT It's time to boost your home energy efficiency the myenergi way! In late December 2023, a UK government declaration revealed plans to offer tax relief on installed standalone home battery storage systems - when installed from 1st Feb 2024 Install your libbi today

Battery capacity, measured in amp-hours (Ah), indicates how much energy a battery can store. For example, a 100Ah 12-volt battery can hold around 1200 watt-hours (Wh) of energy.
