Supercapacitors are widely used in the rapidly expanding electric car industry because of their extended lifespan, which is many orders of magnitude longer than that of rechargeable batteries. Additional appealing features of the new supercapacitor families include their high-power density and low environmental impact [13], [14].

However, supercapacitors, despite their advantages, can be dangerous as a result of their high energy densities and ability to quickly discharge. Thus, for supercapacitors to be utilised in wearable electronics, ...
