The Renewable Energy Roadmap for Afghanistan RER2032 is developed to realize the vision and intent of the Renewable Energy Policy (RENK) for Afghanistan that sets a target of deploying 4500 - 5000 MW of renewable energy (RE) capacity by 2032 and envisions a transition from donor grant-funded RE projects to a fully-private sector led industry by 2032.

Development and utilization of solar energy has accelerated tremendously in the past ten years, more than any other renewable energy (RE) technology, including wind, biomass and geothermal [4]. This is due to the abundant and widespread availability of solar radiations over the globe and decreasing price of solar systems, resulting in economies of scale [5].

Most rural areas in Afghanistan, accounting for 75 % of the population, are not connected to the grid. The power supply is limited to self-made solar PV rooftop systems, which cannot be used for productive use to support economic activities.
