For several decades, Uganda suffered from inadequate power supply. Civil war (1971-1986) and declining water levels in Lake Victoria, the primary reservoir for Uganda's hydro-based electric power system, made this problem worse, causing a 60% decrease in the country's available generation capacity (of less than 500 MW), and access rates at just 7% (ESMAP ...

The Government of Uganda and Umeme Limited are locked in a standoff over the final buyout amount due to the electricity distribution company ahead of its concession expiry on March 31, 2025. The dispute comes at a time when the country is facing significant power supply constraints, further intensifying public scrutiny of the ongoing energy [...]
